

Tear This Temple Down

© Matt Blick 2013 www.mattblick.com

Ball your tiny fingers up in fists
Pray each night that God does not exist
'Cos a Father up in Heaven
Who's presiding over such a mess as this -
God forbid

*You want to tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground
Tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground*

You fear Heaven like your father feared hell
But what you think that you might find there, who can tell?
A man with questions looks for truth
But you just want to prove there's no such thing
You can't win

*Go on and tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground
Tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground*

All that you can see is all there is.
All that you can see is all there is.
All that you can see is all there is.
All that you can feel is all there is.

All that you can see is all there is
Fools believe in things that don't exist
Like tomorrow, like tomorrow.

You loved the way your name felt in her mouth
The angels came to take away the sound, and now...

*Tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground
Tear this temple down
Tear it down
To the ground*
